Message From Cindy Shogan

Executive Director

Alaska Wilderness League — Your Land, Your Voice

It is just a tag line, but these four simple words say it all. These four words are the heart and soul of Alaska Wilderness League's work to protect our land and waters in Alaska. Throughout 2014, you and many others used your voices in creative and impactful ways to advocate for protecting our extraordinarily wild lands and waters in Alaska.

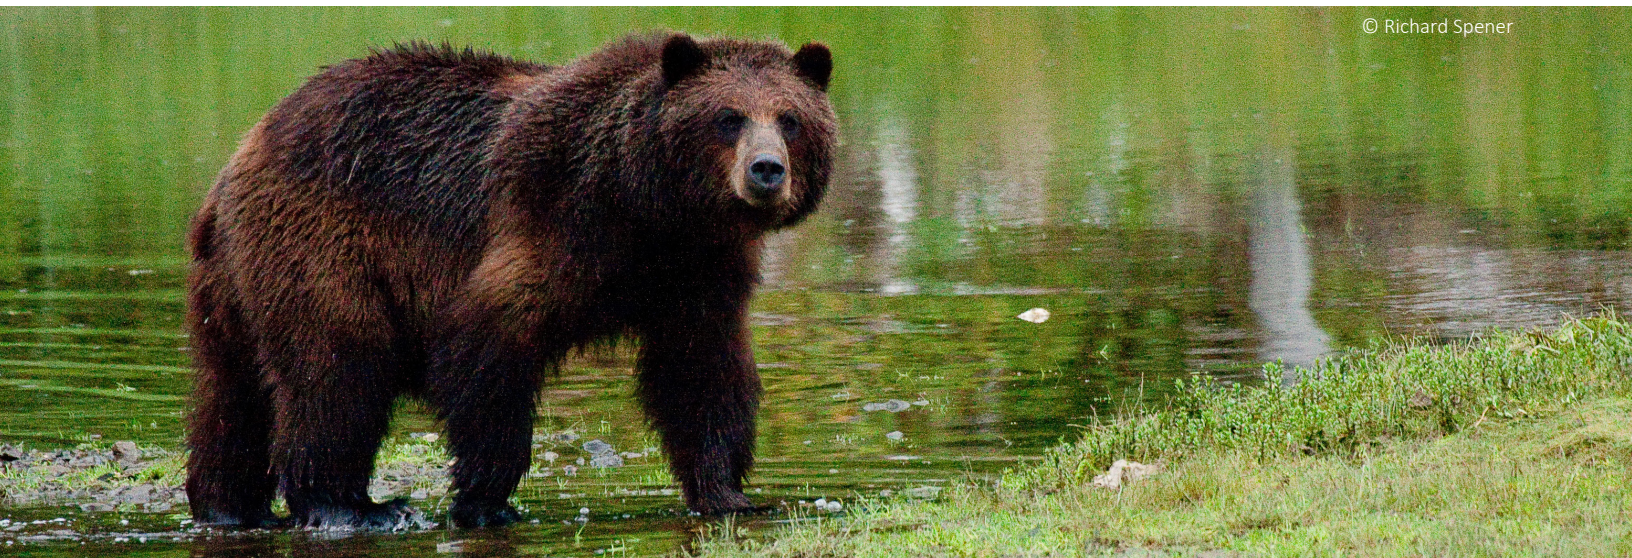

The 50th Anniversary of the Wilderness Act provided opportunities to celebrate the wilderness values of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and the Tongass National Forest. Our staff in Maine, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Juneau, Anchorage and Fairbanks took supporters on hikes to explore local wilderness areas and share stories about Alaska's wilderness.

There was an incredibly sad environmental disaster in March that must never be forgotten – the 25th anniversary of the Exxon Valdez oil spill. We reminded the country of the impacts of this oil spill disaster on Prince William Sound's once pristine environment. And we vowed that this type of tragedy would not be repeated in the Arctic Ocean. Throughout 2014 we stood strong in our opposition to Shell Oil drilling in the Beaufort and Chukchi Seas. And together we successfully led the effort to keep their drilling plans "Shell-ved!"

More than 1,000 of you joined our "Team Arctic" at the historic People's Climate March on September 21 in New York City. We surrounded a melting iceberg wearing our Arctic -T-shirts which read "The Arctic Affects You (Me, All of Us)." It was truly an inspiring and empowering event!

Here is a sampling of how we all took action and used our voices in 2014:

2014 Northern Lights Index of Achievement

- 21 * Tribes on the North Slope who passed resolutions supporting protecting the Arctic Ocean
- 24 * Jars of Maine maple syrup presented to our friends at the Gwich'in Gathering in July in Old Crow, Canada
- 2,000 * Calls to President Obama to protect the Arctic Ocean on the 25th anniversary of the Exxon Valdez oil spill
- 14 * Letters to the editor talking about local sightings of snowy owls which made the connection between the birds in people's backyards to the Arctic Refuge
- 114 * Photos collected of people who love and want the Arctic Refuge protected from all 50 states
- 25 * Guardians who have joined us to support the League's work at the local level
- 1,100 * People joined me at the People's Climate March in New York City on September 21 as "Team Arctic"
- 15 * Polar bears I saw while visiting the North Slope this year
- 2 * League staff dancing as polar bears at the silent disco fundraiser for the League hosted by Osprey Packs at the Outdoor Retailer show in Salt Lake City
- 28 * Recreation companies in southeast Alaska who asked the Forest Service to protect the Tongass

Wildly Yours,

Cindy

Alaska Wild Giving Society

Member Recognition

This past year was a huge success thanks to your dedicated support. As a member of the Alaska Wild Giving Society, you are part of a special community of supporters who are truly making vital efforts to protect wild Alaska. Without your support, none of our successes would be possible. Thank you from all of us who care deeply about keeping Alaska wild.

If you have questions about your giving, or would like to update your name, please don't hesitate to contact our Director of Advancement - Operations, Brian Leone Tracy, at BrianLT@alaskawild.org or (202) 266-0415.
